MRS. AYLESWORTH LEADING LADY AT NEVADA TONIGHT

"THE CHORUS LADY" COMPANY
TONIGHT AT NEVADA IS A SPLENDID SHOW.

The advance sale for the appearance of Manager Arthur Aylesworth's company in "The Chorus Lady" at the Nevada theater indicates that the house will be entirely sold out before the curtain rises at tonight's performance and standing room will be at a premium.

Tonopah theatergoers are promised one of the best shows of the season, and, in fact, one of the best ever presented here. The rights to "The Chorus Lady" have been secured by Manager Aylesworth for a long season tour of all the territory west of the Mississippi river. It is one of the best comedies ever written and will be presented here tonight by the same company that appeared later in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland and all the larger cities. Grace Aylesworth, who is well and favorably known through this section, and who has many friends in Tonopah, is appearing in the leading part of Patricia O'Brien. There are a few good seats left for tonight's performance, and those who have not already made their reservation should do so at once. "The Chorus Lady" is not of the singing comedy kind, it is all acting, and of the highest class. Mrs. Aylesworth is very clever in her part.

REFUSED NEVADA AND IS SENT TO SOUTH DAKOTA

BISHOP ROWE, WHO WOULD NOT ACCEPT POST HERE, TAKES ANOTHER STATE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Rev. Peter Tremble Rowe, missionary bishop of Alaska, yesterday was elected bishop of the Episcopal missionary district of South Dakota. Other missionary bishops chosen by the Episcopal house of bishops were:

Rev. D. Trumbull Huntington, bishop at Wu-Hu, China, and Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, president of St. Paul's college, Japan, bishop at Kiato, Japan.

Bishop Rowe has been bishop of Alaska for many years and it is believed by some that he will not accept the new post. When he was elected bishop of Nevada four years ago he declined to accept, saying at that time: "I will never leave Alaska."

A DEED OF DARING; MANY LIVES SAVED

A historic case of daring and endurance rarely equaled in life saving annals was that of the rescue of 27 souls by one man in 1867. The fishing schooner Sea Clipper was driven by the tempest against a reef near the Spotted Islands on that coast and speedily went to pieces. Captain William Jackman, in charge of a fishing crew at these islands, had wandered in a direction he had never been before, as if by inspiration, and suddenly saw the whole tragedy enacted before his eyes. Hurrying his one companion back to the fishing station to summon help, he plunged into the howling swirl himself and eleven times swam to the ship. Each time he took back a human being to safety, battling splendidly against wind and tide.

Then help arrived, but no means was available of communicating with the vessel, so Jackman fastened a rope around his waist and made 15 more trips, returning with a castaway on each occasion. It was then discovered that a woman had been overlooked and left on board, and the belief was expressed that she was dead, but he declared that he would not leave her there, living or dead. Accordingly he plunged into the surf again and soon bore the hapless creature to the shore, where, divesting himself of his flannels, he wrapped them around her, as she was almost at death's door. She expired a few hours later, but lived long enough to thank her preserver for his noble efforts in her behalf.—Wide World Magazine.
